THE MODERN SUMMER GIRL.

The maiden fair and airy,
She who emulates the fairy,
Has by Dame Fashion's stern decree become passé de late.
Her charms which once delighted,
Now are almost wholly slighted;
In fact, the fragile maiden's very early out of date.

We used to bow before her,
But no longer we adore her;
Her faty ways and helplessness our hearts cannot beguile.

The pale, angelic creature's
Lily-white, sun-guarded features
We do not now appreciate because they're out of style.

Now in the golden summer
We adore the glad new-comer,
Who does away with childishness and all that sort of thing.

She's thorough quite at rowing
Swimming, tennis, fencing, throwing,
And rides a wheel with all the grace of birds upon the wing.

She's happy, strong and agile,
Not the least bit pale and fragile;
She doesn't faint because her face may catch a shade of tan;

She's neither weak nor stupid,
But she's just the girl that cupid
With honest joy can join for life with any lucky man.

If anyone has any old cast off clothes, men's preferred, to give away they can find a place for them by calling at this office. There are a great many people in this city who are without the necessities of life in this direction. They are for the Mission Chapel in the First Ward.

It will be a matter of some surprise to local river men to learn that Pittsburgh has a new office for river men, known as "River Inspectors," and that Captain Chancellor has been engaged the past week examining applicants for the same.
It would likewise afford river men considerable satisfaction to learn just what the duties are connected with the office, and whether the official is furnished a canoe to do his traveling in while inspecting the Ohio's 500 miles of waterway.

FEARS FREETRADE

How a West Virginia Farmer
Lost $4,200 on Kraut.

A gentleman who recently returned from Sistersville, W. Va., relates this incident.

I have recently been down to West Virginia, where the people are troubled over the prospect of free iron and free coal, because these are about the two largest industries in that Democratic State.

I find that the very fear of Free-trade has hurt West Virginia in more ways than one. Even the farmers have felt it.
I had a valuable conversation with one farmer who has been a lifelong Democrat, who will be of interest to farmers elsewhere. I first met him on the train as he was returning home after trying to sell his products.

My new found friend owns a large farm along the Ohio river and raises cabbages to make kraut. I asked him
"where he usually sold it?"

"My market has always been in Pittsburgh," said the farmer. "I have been in this business for ten years, and sold my kraut every year for $9 a barrel, and with no trouble. That paid me well."

"How much did you get for it this year?" I naturally asked.

"Well," he said, "last fall I had a good crop of cabbages to harvest, and put up 700 barrels of kraut, which I expected to bring me $4,200. I wrote to the firm in Pittsburgh that always bought my kraut for their price, and they wrote back and said they could not give me
more than $4 a barrel."

"Why, that meant $1,400 less than usual," I said.

"Yes. They said they had no confidence in this Government, and things were pretty quiet in Pittsburgh, and they could not do any better. This got me mad, because I was a good Democrat and helped elect this Government, so I up and wrote them that I didn't have to take their $4 any more, but would wait a bit."

"Did they have to come to you for it afterwards?" I asked.

"Well," said the cabbage grower, "I waited a bit and looked around, but didn't see any buyers, so I wrote them I would take their $4. You bet I hated to have to come to their terms."

"So you sold it, then, for $4.00 less than you usually got?" I asked.

"No, I didn't. I didn't," he answered, with a thump of his fist on the seat in front of him that made a passenger sit on it jump up as if he had been shot.

"No, sir," he continued, "Those fellows then were so dog gone mean that they wrote back and told me they couldn't do it at any price, that the men who usually bought kraut from them were out of work and had no money to buy anything."

"That must have made you feel mad,"
I suggested, sympathizingly.

"Mad? Mad wasn't in it. I cursed around so that nobody came near me for a month. I felt they were just gyping me because they knew I was a good Democrat, and I had never had any trouble with them before in all the ten years we did business together. You bet
I was mad."

"What did you do then?" was my next question.

"Well, sir, I made up my mind that they should see I could sell kraut if they couldn't, and got kraut it was too. I started out then in earnest to hunt a market."

"Where did you sell it after all?"

"Well, sir, I have been hunting a market every since. I am just come now from Cincinnati after being away three weeks on my last trip, and I'll be damned
if I can find a living soul anywhere who wants to buy one single barrel of kraut
or of anything else."

"That seems too bad. I can hardly believe it," I said earnestly.

"Yes, sir, it is true. I've tried my hardest so far, but I can't lose those Pittsburgh fellows see I was beaten. But everywhere I went it was the same answer, 'Men not at work, so no sale for anything.' For ten years I had no trouble, but under the Democratic Government, which I helped elect, I've lost the sale of 700 barrels of kraut that ought to have brought me $4,200."

"What are you going to do about it?"
I said with interest.

"Do, do," he answered. "There's only one thing to do, and that is to turn these fellows out. I'm a Republican now; no more Democrats for me. I'm for Protection; no more Free-trade for me. This Free-trade talk has cost me $4,200, and I'm working hard now for the Republicans, sir; we've Republicans expect to carry this state of West Virginia
by a majority of fifteen or twenty thousand, and by thunder we'll do it."

MISSING.

The Japanese Fleet Unheard of Since Last Saturday.

Only a Few of Them Are Ironclads, the Rest of Them Merchants.

There is considerable uneasiness, and several coasters are hunting for the missing vessels. The merchantmen were last seen with troops.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—The Central News' correspondent in Shanghai says that there were only a few ironclads among the Japanese vessels that attacked Port Arthur and Wei Hai Wei. Most of the fleet were merchantmen, which had been converted hastily into cruisers, and were carrying troops for work ashore.

What has become of the Japanese fleet since the morning of the 11th, nobody in Shanghai has heard. There is considerable apprehension along the Chinese coast, and the small steam vessels are scouting constantly, but no view of the hostile squadron was obtained either Sunday or Monday.

The Chinese were alarmed at the attack on Wei Hai Wei. More submarine mines have been laid before Taku and Wei Hai Wei. The British warship Mercury left the Foo Saturday night for Wei Hai Wei to meet the foreigners at the latter port. Many of the boats along the Chinese coast, most notably in the neighborhood of the threatened ports, have been removed.

The Shanghai correspondent of the Central News says that the strong Chinese fleet has left the coast. The impression in Shanghai is that the fleet will seek to intercept the transports which are carrying Japanese troops to Korea.

A Dismal Race.

Miss Justice was also injured, and Hicks has been arrested for criminal carelessness.

THE LONDON TIMES

Makes Some Comments on the Tariff Bill.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—Commenting on the tariff bill debate in the U. S. congress, the Times says: "It is high time that this discreditable business were brought to an end. The whole thing is a party game. Each move is determined by sole reference which has been the bones of contention. The democrats, it must be admitted, had a somewhat difficult game to play, but if the democratic senators had been a little more sagacious and a little more straightforward it would have been a wise choice. The real winners have been the republicans, who have been able to win at each step which has sunk their opponents more deeply in the mud."

In an article on tariff legislation in the United States, the New York Mail and Express says that the deadlock in Washington is bound to strengthen the republicans, and that the tariff bill will return to the McKinley principles.

AN OHIO CYCLONE.

Everything in Its Path Swept Clear and Clean.

GENEVA, O., Aug. 14.—A genuine cyclone struck Geneva, Ohio, early Monday morning, devastating forests, orchards, buildings, growing crops, etc. The wind struck in near the lake and swept a path of destruction and death in everything in its path. Heavy hail accompanied the wind and smashed thousands of trees and buildings. The path of the storm was clearly destroyed by hail and wind together. The roar of the wind was heard two or three miles away and the effects of the storm were as being something frightful. The storm swept a path about three miles long. The loss will be heavy. So far no persons were seriously injured.

PROHIBITED.

The Chinese Treaty Ratified by the Senate.

For a Period of Ten Years Chinese Laborers Will Be Restricted.

From Coming into the United States, Except Under Conditions Specified. This Does Not Apply to the Return of Registered Chinese Who Families.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—The Chinese treaty, which was signed by the senate Monday by a vote of 16 to 16, provides that for a period of ten years the coming, except under conditions specified, of Chinese laborers to the United States shall be absolutely prohibited. This does not apply to the return of any registered Chinese laborer who has a wife, child, or parent in the United States, or property here of the value of $1,000, or debts of like amount due him and pending settlement.

Every such laborer is required to leave the United States to deposit with the collector a full description in writing of his family, property, etc. The right to return must be exercised within one year from date of leaving, but the right to return may be extended for a period of one year. This treaty does not affect the right not enjoyed by certain designated Chinese laborers (who are not laborers) to travel or to come to the United States or reside therein. Chinese laborers have the privilege of transit through the United States to and from their homes in China.

The United States recognizes the right of the Chinese government to enforce registry regulations similar to those of the United States against American laborers, skilled or unskilled, in China, whether residing within or without the treaty ports. TESTIMONIALS.

LEXINGTON, KY., May 28th, 1894.
It gives me pleasure to say that I am well acquainted with the character and work of Mrs. A. R. Bourne and Miss Alice Lloyd, and that I think the Madison Female Institute very fortunate in securing their services in its management. They are both ladies of culture, executive ability and of skill in the art of teaching. No parents in Kentucky or elsewhere need hesitate to place daughters under their care or instruction.

LEXINGTON, KY., June 13th, 1894.
To whom it may concern: Having learned that you are the managers of the Madison Female Institute, I give you pleasure to say that they are in my opinion in the best position for the position. These ladies have had the opportunity of learning the best methods of teaching in some of the best schools in the country, and have had the opportunity of learning the best methods of teaching in some of the best schools in the country. Mrs. Bourne and Miss Lloyd are Associate Principals will be aided by a corps of able teachers, and from my knowledge of their ability, energy and Christian culture, I have no doubt of their good service in the cause of Christian education. The success of Mrs. Annie M. Beam, of McKeesport, Pennsylvania, in the treatment of diarrhoea in her children will undoubtedly be of interest to many mothers. She says: "I spent several weeks in Johnstown, Pa., after the great flood, on account of my husband being employed there. We had several children with us, two of whom took the diarrhoea very badly. I got some of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy from Rev. Mr. Chapman. I cured both of them. I knew of several other cases where it was equally successful. I think it cannot be overpraised and cheerfully recommend it." Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by Theo. C. Power, Druggist.

Many who have noticed the beautifully lighted stores of Messrs. W. C. Miner, J. H. and J. C. Peor have wondered what new style electric lamp they were using. The fact is, however, that the light is made from plain every day glass with the Weisbach incandescent burner and it can be fitted to any gas fixture in five minutes. The Weisbach consumes about half as much gas as the ordinary tip burner and gives nearly four times as much light and no flickering—absolutely steady, soft, white light that is grateful to the most sensitive eye. For prices and full particulars call on Ballenger the Jeweler.

Mr. Thomas Batts, editor of the Graphic, Texarkana, Arkansas, has found what he believes to be the best remedy in existence for the flux. His experience is well worth remembering. He says: "Last summer I had a very severe attack of flux. I tried almost every known remedy, none giving relief. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was recommended to me. I purchased a bottle and received almost immediate relief. I continued to use the medicine and was entirely cured. I take pleasure in recommending this remedy to any person suffering with such a disease, as in my opinion it is the best medicine in existence." Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by Theo. C. Power, Druggist.

It is far superior to "Marie Monk" and books of that character.

It is the piece of classic composition, and after being out of print for many years it has been republished from the original text.
